

Accounting Practice Fees of Circa $300,000

An opportunity to acquire an established accounting practice with what could best be described as a very good client base. There is a mixture of clients from a range of different industries.

It would be ideal for an existing accounting practice wishing to expand and 'bolt on' the practice or perhaps an experienced accountant wishing to commence practice at a reasonable scale.

The business is currently operated from an office located north of the river in a light industrial area. The Vendor feels the practice could potentially be relocated within a reasonable distance of its current location if this suits the Purchaser.

The Vendor has asked that potential purchasers be qualified for finance prior to progressing to a meeting.
