

Accounting Practice Fees of Circa $360,000

An opportunity to acquire an established accounting practice with accounting fees of circa $360,000 and experienced staff members, located in a popular coastal Mid-West regional area.

The Practice has a range of clients in various industries, with many of clients being located in the region where it is located. There is a mixture of clients from a range of different industries, and many of the client groups have an annual fee in excess of $5,000. The business operates from an office located in the town.

This opportunity may suit an experienced and mature accountant wishing to commence practice at a reasonable scale and having the desire and energy to grow the business further from the client base and relationships already established. It could also suit an existing Perth based or regional accounting practice wishing to grow via acquisition by focusing on this Mid-West regional area within Western Australia. It is important to note that the Vendor feels the practice could not be relocated to Perth.

The Vendor has asked that potential Purchasers be qualified for finance prior to progressing further.
