

A close-up photograph of a fire suppression system nozzle. The nozzle is metallic and has a red indicator. It is spraying a powerful stream of water downwards, which is hitting a fire. The fire is bright orange and yellow, with some green smoke visible. The background is dark.SOLD

Design, Installation, Service and Maintenance of Fire Systems

The business specialises in the design, supply and installation of fire suppression systems in commercial, industrial, government and residential facilities. The business is well established and also provides servicing, repairs and maintenance to their customers. They service the commercial, industrial, mining, government, residential, retail and hospitality markets. The business has built a solid reputation as a quality and reliable operator over its years of trading.

This is a great opportunity to acquire a business that includes project based work and ongoing maintenance services. Benefits of this business include scope for further development, established customer base, experienced and trained staff (5 staff plus the owners) and a good long standing reputation with customers.

The Vendors are flexible as to the handover of the business depending on the Purchaser's circumstances. This opportunity could be an excellent bolt on for an aligned business with an interest in entering this field and adding to their current offerings. The business could also be suitable for a suitably experienced person wanting a stand-alone business in this industry which they could potentially grow and expand further.
