

Accounting Practice Fees circa $1,000,000

Accounting Practice with accounting fees of circa $1,000,000, located in a regional area. The Practice has a range of clients in various industries including (but not limited to) mining, construction, transport, retail, Aboriginal Corporations and the individual tax payers working within these industry sectors - with the majority of clients being located in the region where it is located.

This is an excellent opportunity to acquire an established accounting practice which could best be described as a very profitable operation (circa $600,000 pa) for 2016/17. This opportunity may suit an experienced accountant (or perhaps two experienced like-minded accountants) wishing to commence practice at a reasonable scale and having the desire and energy to grow the business further from the client base and relationships already established. It could also suit an existing Perth based accounting practice wishing to grow via acquisition by focusing on a regional area within Western Australia. It is important to note that due to the regional location of the practice and its clients, the Vendor feels the practice could not be relocated.
