

Small Goods Meat Manufacturer and Premises

This is a rare opportunity to acquire a large and established small goods meat manufacturing business together with a purpose built premises/production facility in Western Australia. The Vendors advise the cost to replicate this business and the premises facility is substantially higher than the asking price, so represents exceptional value for a company group, syndicate or individual with plans to become involved or further expand into this industry.

The brand name is well known and reputable and has been established for many years. There is a wide range of products that are manufactured and supplied to a long-standing and diverse customer base. There is also scope for contract production, which has also previously successfully been performed by this business.

There is substantial infrastructure already in place including experienced staff employed to undertake the work, intellectual property, systems, registrations and the plant & equipment required to operate the business. The Vendors feel there is good scope for further development and growth as the business and premises are operating well below full capacity.

This opportunity would be ideally suited as a "bolt on" to an existing company in the meat industry or a business in an aligned industry looking to acquire their own purpose built premises and facilities - and a well recognised brand to obtain further economies of scale and/or leverage. It could also suit parties with a similar industry background wanting to commence a business in this field in Western Australia – and begin with an established client base, a sizeable scale and good infrastructure.

This opportunity could be a very good strategic acquisition for the right purchaser or business group. The Vendors are looking towards retiring so are realistic in their expectations. They are also able to assist the Purchaser with a handover where needed.
